ALRIANDRIA, November 27.—In order to have the ladies of Alexandria better prepared to take care of sick and wounded people in cases of emergency an emergency class is to be formed at the Infirmary, in which practical lessons will be given in bandaging and treatment of wounds and in the care of sick persons. The class will be instructed by leading physicians here, and there is no doubt that their practical knowledge will do good service in the future. Vesterday was donation-day at the Infirmary, and all day long packages of groceries, household linen, &c., were received. Considerable money was also done ted to the support of the institution.

He then set fire to the house and went sack to his work in the fields. He told some colored men who were working near by that the house was on fire. He was arrested soon afterwards. He seems perunconcerned and does not realize sition. This confession completely nonerates Joseph Dye, who was charged th being implicated in the crime. WOULD HAVE BEEN BURNED.

The Choral Union formed by the Alexandria Musical Association promises to be a great success. Already some forty-five of Alexandria's talented ladies and gentlemen have joined the union. It will now be at once organized and during the coming winter months will assist the Musical Association in their regular monthly concerts. It is said in Warrenton that had they been certain that Hefflin was the man who mmitted the crime he would have been burned, not hung.

EXCITEMENT AND TRREATS AT CALVERTON. (Special telegram to the Dispatch.)
WARRENTON, Va., November 27.—The alleged murderer of Mrs. Kines and her children, Lee Hefflin, was taken to Alexandris last night owing to the fact that a large number of nen from the lower end of the county threatened to attack the jail and lynch him. Other prisoners implicated were removed also. It was not thought safe to keep them here. There is preity strong evidence of the guilt of Hefflin and several others, and great excitement exists, and violence is threatened generally around Calverton. [Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

Mr. Massey on the Debt Settlement. To the Editor of the Dispatch :

As some of my friends think I have bee As some of my friends think I have been tardy mexpressing my opinion of the terms agreed upon for the settlement of the State debt while so many others are speaking out, I beg leave to say through your valuable paper that my tardness has not resulted from want of interest in the subject or of approval of the terms agreed upon. The terms are substantially those I advised as the ultimatum when consulted upon the subject last summer, and I fully and heartily approve them.

With all deference to those who have spoken upon the subject, I think it would have been better to have said nothing until the bondholders shall have ratified the agreement. Human nature is a strange til the bondholders shall have ratified the agreement. Human nature is a strange compound. While the terms agreed upon are, in my opinion, the very best the bondholders will ever get, they may misconstrue our expressions of pleasure at having a vexations question settled, and imagine that they might have obtained better terms and refuse those agreed upon by their agents.

Cake—Portsmouth's Big Check.
[Cerrespondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]
Nonrolk, November 27.—The Good Samaritan's Hall, in Deep Creek, Norfolk county, caught fire yesterday morning and was totally destroyed, together with the furniture and other contents. The building belonged to a colored association, and the loss was about $1,500. There was an insurance of $750 on the property. The fire originated from a defective flue. FESTIVE ELKS.

The visiting Elks from distant cities all got away for home last night. A pleasant feature of the occasion was the presentation of a cane to Mr. Peter Campbell, of the Haltimore Ledge, which was received by Mr. James McNult; in a neat speech, and Mr. Campbell spoke afterwards. There were two fine bands in the procession, and the one from Roanoke attracted great attention, as the fine appearance and numbers of the Roanoke Lodge did generally during the parade.

The Heath Cotton Company drew a check for $521,000 on the Bank of Portsmouth on Wednesday.

DR. LAMBETH'S RECEPTION.

The Stauntons Defeat the Greenbriars by

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

(Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.)
STATISTON, VA., November 27.—There was a hotly-contested match game of foot-ball played here Thursday. The elevens were the home team of the Staunton Military Academy and the visiting team was from the Greenbriar Military Academy. The game was played on the Knable-Academy grounds, and after a hard-fought battle the visitors were defeated by a score of 24 to 4. The single touch-down for the visitors was made by Bidgood. The four touch-downs by the local team were made by Messra, Rucken and Hinds. The visitors returned home Thursday night.
